INTRODUCTION.

THE collection of manuscripts in the Library of Pembroke College falls into two main divisions which may be roughly described as the pre- and post-Reformation classes. The pre-Reformation books are those which were bought by the College, or given by its members, as being actually needed for study during the medieval period. They are the nucleus of the library as we see it to-day. A few other colleges in Cambridge, notably Peterhouse and Gonville and Caius, possess important relics of their medieval libraries, and in all the cases known to me the books in question are in the main undistinguished by external beauty, are written evidently with a view to cheapness, and contain only the works most commonly read in the schools. There are, to be sure, exceptions; we occasionally find books written, a couple of centuries before a college was founded, in the scriptorium of some great monastery which has sold them as duplicates, or perhaps presented them to a monk studying at the University. Thus Christ Church (Canterbury) and Buildwas have contributed books to Pembroke College. Generally speaking, however, the gifts of the medieval Fellows and the purchases made by colleges in medieval times are strictly practical and prosaic. The post-Reformation accessions are apt to be more interesting. They are usually derived from monastic libraries, and are such as appealed to the early collectors because of their contents or ornamentation. It is to the acquisitions of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries that we must look for fine illuminations, early scripts, and precious texts. There is usually a residue—one is tempted to call it a sediment—of paper books containing legal, theological, and historical collections, epic poems, medical receipts and so forth, which have been bequeathed by their fond authors to an undisturbed repose on the shelves of a college library. A certain pathos attaches to these: a faint wish may be felt by the investigator to give them the publicity which their parents desired for them; but I believe it is the truest kindness to the memory of those parents to leave them where they are.

Out of over three hundred manuscripts in the Library of Pembroke College about half belong to the first of my two classes, and were acquired at various times during the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries. They are not by any means all the books that the College possessed. We have lists, doubtless incomplete, of gifts of books made by early Fellows and Masters, from which we learn that many volumes have been lost. It is not to be expected that these will be traced out now; yet the unexpected does sometimes happen, and a Pembroke manuscript may be seen in the University Library at Leyden[1].

The post-Reformation books in this library came mainly from one donor, William Smart, Portreeve of Ipswich, who in 1599 gave a large batch of manuscripts which had formerly been in the library of the Abbey of Bury St Edmunds. With these I have dealt at length in another publication ("Two Essays on the Abbey of Bury St Edmunds," Camb. Ant. Soc., 1895)[2]. I must needs recapitulate here the main facts connected with the donation. William Smart was induced to give the books to Pembroke College by Mr Richard Buckenham, Fellow, doubtless a Suffolk man. The exact number of volumes given by him is nowhere accurately recorded. Thomas James, who in the year 1600 printed a catalogue of them, included among Smart's books a very considerable number which belong to the medieval section. Matthew Wren, on the other hand, in his Register of the Library made in 1617, realized James's mistake, but in his own catalogue of Smart's books understated their number almost as much as James had overstated it. At the present moment there are somewhat over 100 volumes which may be safely assigned to Smart's donation.

No other donor approaches the Ipswich alderman in the importance of his gifts; but Lancelot Andrewes, Edmund Boldero, and [1] See p. xxxi.

[2] My last examination of the manuscripts has led me to withdraw my attribution of a certain number of books to the Bury library: en revanche, several have been brought to my notice which I had not seen in 1895.

William Mundy deserve a word of special gratitude for the quality of the few volumes they presented. These will be found described under nos. 120, 302 (307), 308. There is, further, a small group of manuscripts from Reading Abbey, which came into the library at some time in the eighteenth century, so far as one can judge, and whose donor seems to be forgotten. They appear in none of the old catalogues, printed or written.

The documentary history of the collection as represented by Catalogues and Registers is very fairly copious. For the medieval period, it is true, we are dependent only on entries in the College accounts and the incomplete lists of donations already mentioned. The latter have been collected by Matthew Wren, and again, in 1860, by Dr Corrie (Camb. Ant. Soc. II. p. 11). Next in order come some few notes made early in the sixteenth century by Leland and Bale, of books seen by them in the College library. Of those seen by the former nearly all have gone: six out of twelve in Bale's notes are not now traceable. These will all be set out in due order at a later stage. Meanwhile I pass on to the period of regular catalogues.

The first is that of Thomas James, given in the Ecloga Oxonio-Cantabrigiensis (1600, pp. 126–136). He enumerates 230 items[1], the last of which comprehends 35 volumes: in all 264. He divides them into two portions, the second and largest (Nos. 74–231) is (wrongly, as I have said) assigned wholly to Smart. Of these 230 items, 31 are now missing; two from the older portion of the collection, 29 from "Smart." I have been lucky enough to hit upon the whereabouts of some of these last: eight are in the Bodleian, one is at Gonville and Caius, two more were probably burnt with the Westminster Chapter Library. Most of them must have been removed from the College very shortly after their arrival, for one was presented to the Bodleian as early as 1601, and all had gone by 1617. It is probable, to my thinking, that a few more of the missing books have made their way to Oxford; but hitherto they have eluded my search. All of those which I have identified are Bury books, and doubtless formed part of Smart's donation. We may rejoice that they have fallen into such good keeping.

[1] One number (73) is accidentally omitted; his last number is 231.

James's catalogue was reprinted in the Oxford Catalogi Manuscriptorum Angliæ in 1697 without alteration or addition: one must suppose, reluctantly, that no local help was offered to the editors. The case was the same for Peterhouse, Corpus Christi, Trinity Hall, King's, Jesus, and the University Library. Only Gonville and Caius, Trinity, Emmanuel, and Sidney Sussex produced fresh catalogues of their collections: while Clare, Queens', St Catharine's, Christ's, St John's, and Magdalene afforded none at all. Efforts were made to supply these defects: in the Gale collection at Trinity College (O. 5. 38), and elsewhere, are manuscript catalogues for several of the missing Colleges; but there is no supplement to the Pembroke catalogue amongst them.

However, Pembroke College does possess a documentary history of its library of the very first order. Matthew Wren, afterwards Bishop of Ely, compiled, when a Fellow, about the year 1617, a Register, primarily of donations to the Library, to which he prefixed a collection of all the passages in the College accounts and records which bore on the subject. The work is done with rare enthusiasm and intelligence, and I cannot but wish that the Bishop had inspired some contemporaries in other Colleges with a zeal and industry like his own[1]. Since his time the collection has lost practically nothing, and he has preserved a good many details of the history of individual volumes which we should be puzzled to find without his help.

The eighteenth century contributes nothing of any special merit in the way of catalogues, and indeed is chiefly noteworthy as failing to chronicle some valuable accessions. Yet one exception to this statement must be made.

Uffenbach, who visited "Pembrocks" College on 8 August 1710 (Merkwürdige Reisen III. 59) was on the whole pleased with what he saw. The building in which the books were (the Old Chapel) was "not very large but light and pretty": the librarian was "a very polite young man." The writer saw first a pair of handsome globes by Blaeu (Guilielmus Caesius). Then, the Album amicorum

[1] Sir Edward Stanhope's Memoriale at Trinity College (R. 17. 8) is probably next in merit to that of Bishop Wren; superior in external beauty, but not so full of detail, and not confined in its scope to the Library. Several other Colleges, notably St John's, Sidney Sussex, and Magdalene, possess interesting and valuable Library Registers.

of the famous Abraham Ortelius with the autographs of many learned men. "Item IV. vol. chart. in fol. recent....Nicetas graece [no. 292–295]. Item Cod. in fol. a hand thick, membr. Aulus Gellius [no. 168], an incomparably clean and handsome Codex." (Here a digression apropos of the initials having been cut out of the book.)

"The above manuscripts do not appear in Catal. MSS. Angl. Among those which do, is much poor stuff, and much, as the Librarian told me, which is no longer to be found." He then specifies the following manuscripts and gives their numbers in Bernard's Catalogi.

Virgil [260].

Petrarch [249].

Epp. Iheronymi. Lapidarium in French [111].

Tullius de officiis, not to be found.

Valerius Maximus [105].

Edictum Justiniani, which he calls "recentior" [108].

Armachanus [5].

And thereafter, being unable to find anything more of note, he departed to the Greeks Coffee House, where he met Dr William Whiston.

The last catalogue[1] is that given by Dr Heinr. Schenkl in his Bibliotheca Patrum Latinorum Britannica (II. 2. 1898), who enumerates all the MSS. in the order in which they then stood on the shelves, and gives references to the printed editions of the patristic works—references which I have with his permission (here, as often, generously given) embodied in my text. Dr Schenkl also gives a table of correspondences with the numbers in Bernard's catalogue. This table I have, as in other cases, done over again in a somewhat more complete form, and have added a table e converso of the correspondence of the present numbers with those of Thomas James and Bernard.

The history of the successive buildings which have housed the manuscripts described in this volume has been written in detail by Messrs Willis and Clark in their Architectural History of the University of Cambridge (I. 138–140, 149, 153. III. 429, 465).

[1] A fairly comprehensive survey of the collection, and particulars of Smart's gift, were given by me in a publication already mentioned (Two Essays on the Abbey of St Edmund at Bury) in 1895. This was used by Dr Schenkl.

The first Library of which we hear is that built by Laurence Booth, Master, in 1452. This was over the Hall (as is shown in Loggan's view of the College), and all trace of it vanished, along with that structure, in 1875. Long before this, however, it had ceased to be the home of books. In 1690, or a little later, the old Chapel, which had been rendered useless by the erection of Bishop Wren's new Chapel (in 1663–5), was fitted up as a Library, and the books were transferred thither between 1693 and 1697. A considerable portion of the Library-fittings is still to be seen in this building, which is now used as a Lecture-room.

The present Library was erected in 1875–7 from designs by Mr Waterhouse. It would probably only suffer from any description of it that I could write.

The manuscripts occupy a considerable portion of the wall-space in the eastern bay. They have been freshly arranged and numbered by Mr E. H. Minns, Fellow and Librarian, for the purposes of this catalogue. The Bury books and a few others which have been rightly or wrongly associated with them are here described first, and the College collection (together with miscellaneous accessions) follows, ending with the books preserved in a show-case, and some notes on the later paper manuscripts, and fragments. These last, together with a list of the early printed books, have been compiled by Mr Minns, to whom I wish to express my very warmest thanks for the facilities he has extended to me during the time I have been able to devote to the work of cataloguing, for his ready help, his valuable suggestions, and the work by which he has materially increased the utility of this catalogue. Not less grateful am I to the College for undertaking the expense of printing the work.

Once more I would remind the specialist that I do not claim in this nor in my other Catalogues to identify every tract that occurs in the manuscripts before me. My object is to give a conspectus of what they contain, which may be helpful to the student of the future.

I now proceed to set out the pièces justificatives on which my sketch of the history of this collection of manuscripts is based.

1472. Paid for a Tabula S. Thomae ad librariam. 5*s*. 4*d*.
1473. For Mayro in conflatu de 2, 3, 4 Sentent. £1.
1474. Pro uno libro de *Opere S. Thomae de Malo. 5*s*. 3*d*.
1486. Pro uno *libro de expositione Terentii. £1.

The few remaining entries evidently refer to printed books. The asterisks attached by Wren to most of the volumes mentioned indicate that he accounted them lost. The following books are also enumerated by him (f. 5*b*): he found them mentioned "sparsim," presumably in the College accounts.

*Communis glossa et Lyrae.
*Deuteronomium et Reges.
*Actus Apostolorum.
*Januensis.
*Joannes Canonicus.
*Clementinae.
*Hugo super Epistolas.
*Liber Posteriorum.
*Liber Chronicorum.

He then gives a list of the books remaining, including the following MSS.

Glossa in Exodum.
Aug. de genesi ad literam etc.
Eiusdem Epistolae.
Glossa in Isaiam et Jeremiam.
Reductorium Morale (part 1, Bury).

This ends the medieval period. In the subsequent part of the Register I note the following gifts of manuscripts.

47. Will. Smart (1599).
80 MSS. The list of these and the accompanying notes will be found in my Essay on the Library of the Abbey of Bury St Edmunds. Wren does not mark any as missing, for he constructed the list himself from an examination of the books.

William Mundy's name and arms are entered on an unnumbered leaf, but not his gifts.

The last name is that of Jo. Whalley.

At the end of the volume, occupying 18 leaves, is a Catalogue of the manuscripts in two alphabets, written by Wren. It seems not to contain any volumes now missing. In 1799 it was copied by Clement Chevallier, Fellow, who does not add any of the subsequent donations. Chevallier reckons 16 volumes as missing out of 249: but the only ones which really seem to be missing are Geometry Rules in English (Butterfeild).

Glossa in Exodum cum catena e patribus.
Juris civilis volumen mutilatum.
Nyssenus περὶ εἱμαρμένης Graece (Wren).
Physick Notes (Butterfeild).

There are also two manuscript Catalogues of cent. xvii. late (?), both fragmentary; which were bound by Mr Neil's directions. One is alphabetical, the other a shelf list. This latter enumerates 79 + 90 + 89 + 8 volumes (= 266). These lists include a few books subsequent to Wren's time, viz.:

Pet. Blesensis and Cyprian 154
Hilary 180
Officium B. V. M. 304
De officiis ecclesiasticis 226
Poemata Anglice . . . . . ?243

The second one (mutilated) has

Bibl(ia Latina?).
Ps. 30 (Clement Marot) 306
Nicetas . . . . . 292—295
Gellius 168
Abr. Ortelii (Album) 279
And two or three other mutilated titles.

Notes on Fragments.

Two fragments both apparently taken out of no. 25 (Sermons).

I. Vellum, $12\frac{3}{8} \times 8\frac{3}{8}$, ff. 8 (one quire of 8 leaves), double columns of 44 lines. Cent. xiii, very well written.

1. At top of f. 1 in a hand like that of Henry de Kirkstede which appears in several Bury MSS.: hic est finis illius notabilis summe que uocatur verbum abbreuiatum que quidem continet CII capitula.

   It is rather more than half a column and ends immensum et inexplicabile.

2. Inc. tractatus Mag^{ri} Alani Porrei ad Episcopum Nouionensem. Uidit iacob scalam a terra usque ad celum etc. Scala ista profectus est uiri catholici.

   Ends imperfectly in the thirteenth chapter. Exhortatio ad luctum spiritualem.

   Note at end in the same hand as that on p. 1,

   Nota quod deficiunt hic de isto tractatu xxxiii capitula.

II. Vellum, $12\frac{3}{8} \times 8$, ff. 8, four double leaves. Cent. xiv, early. Fragments of an account book of Bury Abbey.

The following are the headings:

Recepcio denar. de Hundredis de a. d. R. Abb. XI°.

p. 16. Recepcio denar. de Hundr. anno r. r. Edwardi fil. r. Edw. XVII° et anno R. Abbatis XII°.
Richard de Draughton was Abbot of Bury 1312–1335. The years represented in these accounts are 1323–1325.

Other noteworthy fragments among a large mass taken out of bindings are:

a. Taken out of no. 7. Four leaves numbered 189 to (192) in double columns (triple on the last page) of cent. xii? in a beautiful Italian hand, with ornaments and grotesques, containing the end of the Digest.

b. One leaf of cent. x–xi containing Orosius v. 16 Mulieres grauiorem to 18 intestinis causis.

c. Half of a leaf (vertically divided) with 24 lines on each side. Headings in capitals. Cent. x–xi.
recto. qui tamen altaris. Venant. Fortunatus. I. v. 11, to qui lepre maculas meditata per. I. vi. 9.
verso. (Mo)rbida bella tulit. I. vi. 10, to festa sonant. I. vii. 10.

d. A leaf in a hand like that of b.

f. Two fragments of an account roll (xiv) with mention of Herringswell (Suffolk).

Additional Note on Nos. 289, 290.

289. Paper, 15 lines to a page.
Koran, written in Morocco in A. H. 1038 (A.D. 1628) by Abdulrahmân Abu Izzân.
Given by Edward Tines (cir. 1633). The name Mr ffuller is on the flyleaf.

290. Paper, 19 lines to a page.
Koran, given in 1626 by Christopher Wren, brother of Matthew Wren.
Inscriptions: Donum Joannis de Vado missum ex urbe Marroco anno 1598. Francisci Junii Biturigis. His son Francis gave it to Wren in 1622.

On f. 120 is a list of contents and indication of subjects, in the hand of the first flyleaf.

On 121, 122 another list of contents, a receipt, and some notes. Not in Wren.

2. Gul. Altissiodorensis.

{ C. M. A. 2109
S. p. 35

Vellum, $14\frac{4}{5} \times 10\frac{1}{8}$, ff. 142, double columns of 48 lines. Cent. xiii, in a hand of earlier type not very successful: very probably that of an aged scribe.

A large flourished initial on f. 1 in a later embellishment. It trespasses over the Bury pressmark.

From Bury. On f. 1, at top.

Liber monachorum S. Edmundi. A. 109.

Rebound.
Collation: 1^8–8^8 (wants 8) 9^8 (wants 8) 10^8–18^8.

Contents:

Gulielmus Altissiodorensis super primum et secundum Sententiarum f. 1
Fides est substantia sperandorum
Lib. II. f. 38.
Ends f. 141 a. Crimina criminibus uindicantur.
In a later hand a table of chapters headed liber primus impleti sunt per Thomam Katewy.
Copious notes and a few memorial verses on f. 142.
In the text are a good many blanks and erasures.

The author, William of Auxerre, died in 1230.
Wren 25.

3. Gul. Altissiodorensis. { C. M. A. 2094 / S. p. 35

Vellum, $14\frac{1}{2} \times 10$, ff. $132 + 3$, double columns of 48 lines. Cent. xiii, in two hands, the first the hand of no. 2, the other a neat close hand.

From Bury. On f. 1.

Liber monachorum S. Edmundi. A. 110.

Flyleaves at the beginning: nearly two leaves of a tract de preceptis (? Bernard) of Cent. xiii. At the end, four leaves of a xiiith Cent. philosophical MS. (Aristotle).

Collation: 1 flyleaf 1^8–7^8 8^{10}–12^{10} 13^8 14^8 15^{10} 2 flyleaves.

Contents:

Gul. Altissiodorensis super tertium Sententiarum . . . . f. 1
Dicto de peccatis quibus homo lapsus est in perditionem.
The second hand begins on f. 12.
Ends f. 131 b. Ille facit cuius auctoritate fit. amen.
Notes in pencil and ink on f. 132. One is a formula for admitting a novice Stephanus clericus.

Wren 39.

4. Gul. Altissiodorensis. { C. M. A. 2096 / S. p. 35

Vellum, $14\frac{9}{10} \times 10\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 74 + 4, double columns of 48 lines. Cent. xiii, in the hand of no. 2.

Rebound. Chainmark at top of first flyleaf.

From Bury: but the first leaf with pressmark is gone. The identity of the hand with that of no. 2 renders the provenance not doubtful.

Collation: 3 flyleaves (a piece cut out of the 2nd) $1^{?8}$ (four left: or 6, 1–3 gone) 2^8–10^8 (wants 7, 8) 1 flyleaf.

On the first flyleaves are many closely written notes: on 111 b a title (xv): In isto libro continetur Allexder Altisiodori super 4^{m} Sententiarum.

Contents:

Altissiodorensis super quartum sententiarum . . . . f. 1
Beginning imperfectly: aliquando precepit illud.
Ends f. 74 a: hiis qui diligunt eum. Illa gaudia nobis p*re*rāre (!) dignetur I. C. d. n. qui cum patre et sp. s. uiuit et regnat per omnia sec. sec. Amen.
On 74 b a long note on intercession (xiii–xiv).
Below the names
Will^{ms} Babynton (xv).
Johannes Lauynham.
Will. Babyngton was Abbot of Bury 1445–53.
John Lavenham a sacrist of cent. xiv is probably not the individual here mentioned.

Not in Wren.

5. Ric. Armachanus. { C. M. A. 2152 / S. p. 34

Vellum, $1\frac{3}{5} \times 9$, ff. 93 + 2, double columns of 50 lines. Cent. xiv late, well written.

Rebound. Trace of chainmark at top of 1st flyleaf. In the cover is pasted an old label inscribed in a large hand:

Liber monachorum S. Edmundi de procuracione dompni Johannis Gosford quondam prioris in quo continentur [Gosford's date is about 1380: he wrote the Electio Joh. Tymworth. Arnold, Memorials III. 113 etc.]
Scripta armachani de questionibus Armenorum. A. 143.

Collation: a^2 (loose) 1^{12} (wants 1) 2^{12}–6^{12} (wants 1) 7^{12} 8^{12} (wants 12).

From Bury. On f. ii b:

Istum librum procurauit monasterio S. Edmundi ffr. Joh. Gosford monachus eiusdem loci in quo continentur scripta domini armachani de questionibus armenorum.

f. 1 with pressmark is gone.

The flyleaves are inscribed in a magnificent large hand of cent. xv. early? with an account of the book beginning

In isto volumine continentur scripta Armachani de questionibus Armenorum. Et idem volumen continet 19 libros.

The contents of each are given:

Richardus Fitz Rallph Archiepiscopus Armachanus de questionibus Armenorum beginning imperfectly: dicendus semper qui est uulgaris.
Ending imperfectly in lib. 10.
The last leaf soiled.

Wren 47.

6. Augustini de Civitate Dei.

C. M. A. 1941
S. p. 2565

Vellum, 17 × 12, ff. 145 + 1, double columns of 44 lines. Cent. xv and xii, the latter magnificently written.

Rebound. 2 fo. sent auctoribus.

Most probably from Bury: though no pressmark remains.

Collation: 1^{10} (1 canc.) | 2^8–6^8 (wants 7, 8) 7^8 (wants 1–5) 8^8 (wants 1) 9^8 (gap of 5 quires) 10^8–19^8. 1 flyleaf.

Contents:

Sentencia S. Augustini episcopi de libro retractationum In librum de Ciuitate dei. Inc. prologus . . . . . f. 1
Interea cum roma.
Aurelii Augustini doctoris Egregii de ciuitate dei liber primus inc. (P. L. xli).
Gloriosissimam ciuitatem dei.
The first quire is a supplement of cent. xv, handsomely written.
The original hand begins at f. 10 and is very fine. There is a gap in libb. vii, viii: libb. xi–xiv are gone.
Lib. xxii ends f. 145 b: gratias congratulantes agant. amen.
Aur. Aug. doct. egreg. de ciu. dei lib. viges. secundus. Expl.

The initials are mostly in plain colours—red, blue, green, brown. Not in Wren.

7. Postillae.

{ C. M. A. 2076
{ S. p. 40

Vellum, $13\frac{3}{5} \times 10$, ff. $267 + 3$, double columns of 56 lines. Cent. xiii, in two good hands.

Rebound.

From Bury. On the flyleaf is :

Liber monachorum S. Edmundi in quo continentur (list of contents). ·B· 231.

Above this is :

Memoriale Magistri Roberti Grossetest' pro exameron basilii. The hand in which this is written is I believe Grosseteste's own. The meaning is that the monks gave him a copy of Basil's Hexaemeron—a rare book which they had, and got this in exchange.

On the lower margin of f. 1 also in Grosseteste's hand is :

Κυατερρι ·29 ·ι·κθ.

Collation: 1 flyleaf. 1^8–16^8 17^4 | 18^8–28^8 (2 canc.) 29^8 | 30^8–34^8. 2 flyleaves.

Contents :

I. 1. Postille super Psalterium . . . . . f. 1
Est introitus interior est introitus exterior.
In lower margin, lined through is written
Glose baldewin (?) secus introitu tabernaculi etc.
Ends f. 132 a: IIII^{or} in occulto .i. in secreto pres(or scien)(en)cie sue. Expl. Note psalterii.
Some notes in ink and pencil follow.

2. Super Isaiam 133
Lectulum Salomonis lx fortes
Ends f. 173 a sed ecclesia parit. Expl. glose super ysayam.

3. (In the hand of 1). Super Ieremiam . . . . 173 b
Posuit moyses in occidentali latere.
Ends f. 192 b: nec dolet de peccato. Finis super Jeremiam.

4. Super Danielem 193
Sicut in tabernaculo domini eran(t) tabule.
Ends f. 204 b: quia hinc pax erat.

5. Super xii prophetas . . . . . 204 b
Facies rationale iudicii in quo sculpes xii gemmas.
Jam uerus .i. Christus suscitatus.
There is a blank left on ff. 213 b, 214 a: it originally was longer by a leaf.

II. 6. Super euangelium Marci 228
Uidi et ecce quatuor quadrige.
Ends imperfectly f. 267 b on circumponentes spongiam (Mar. xv).

Wren 26.

8. CONCORDANTIA. { C. M. A. 2016 / S. p. 36

Vellum, $15\frac{2}{5} \times 9\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 492 + 1, 3 main columns and 3 subsidiary columns to a page, 68 lines. Cent. xiv early, very well written, with good ornament.

Rebound. Chainmark at bottom of 1st flyleaf.

From Bury. On the flyleaf is:

Concordant' B · 276 ·

On f. 1:

...Smarte Aldermannus Gypouicensis dedit Aulae Pembrochianae an. D. 1599.

Collation: 1 flyleaf. 1^{12}–16^{12} (wants 6, 7) 17^{12}–30^{12} 31^{10} 32^{12}–36^{12} 37^{10} 38^{12}–41^{12} 42^{6}.

Then in very narrow letters

On the first flyleaf are two strata of writing. The later (xv) consists of 18 lines of a poem of Lydgate

my dere sone ferst thy|self enable

...
but w^{t} sadde chere loke hym in the face walke demewyrly be strete in the toun.

The other is a rudimentary map of the world. No outlines are drawn, but names of places are set down, and occasionally a drawing of a castle. This is of cent. xiv early. At the top of the page we have the following entries:

Ascanorum gens laureis siluis et buxeis uiret • est etiam prouincia reple(t)a serpentibus mire magnitudinis.

Thilos insula que arboribus habundat que nunquam carent foliis • Bragmania regio • colubr. seruantes aureos m. Ascanorum gens fluuius frigota.

In centre of page Insula pathmos.

Then follow six leaves of drawings of the xith century. The earlier ones are coloured with light washes of red, blue, green and pink: the backgrounds are plain: practically no gold is used. Each page is enclosed in a frame of varying pattern, and contains several pictures.

f. 1 a. Border of triangles.

1. The Wicked Husbandmen. (a) A throned man with a staff speaks to a young man (the Heir): (b) Three husbandmen in a vineyard, with wattled fence and tall tower, drag in the young man from L.: (c) he lies prostrate, and the three men attack him with ball-headed mace, axe and spear.

2. Cleansing of the Temple. Under three arches with turrets above them (a) a group of twelve Apostles (two have books), (b) a table with money falling: Christ, going R. with scourge of three lashes, points to a table with doves on it: (c) a crowd going off to R., with cattle.

3. Feeding of the Five Thousand. L. the Apostles: C. Christ seated on a mound faces R.: two Apostles offer to him (a) five round cakes, (b) two fish in a boat-shaped dish: R. seven tiers of people sit facing L.

f. 1 b. Border of plaited bands forming lozenges.

4. Healing of the Man born blind. L. the Apostles: C. Christ with his fingers on the eyes of the blind man, who wears a rough cloak covered with spiky points, and blue trousers: R. blind man facing R., his hands on his eyes. Water flows on his face from a green aperture in the upper corner. (Siloam.)

5. The Woman taken in adultery. L. the Apostles: Christ stooping with R. hand writes on the ground, with L. hand points up at a shrinking woman. R. three Jews with their laps full of stones: the foremost (on L.) has a stone in his raised hand.

6. Raising of Lazarus. L. the Apostles. Christ facing R.: at his feet are Mary and Martha: one kneels to him, the other kisses his feet. R. a man, leaning on an upright tombstone, holds his hand with his sleeve drawn over it to his nose: an arched tomb with low brickwork in front: Lazarus, swathed, stands in it: one of a crowd on R. holds one end of the swathings, and holds his nose with the other hand.

No. 120, fol. 3ª.

f. 2 a. Border of ellipses with four-petalled flowers at the junctions.

7. The Good Samaritan. L. the traveller lies on the ground: he wears one loose garment: three men attack him with spear, sword and hands. R. he lies naked and bleeding, wounded in the stomach: a tonsured deacon in dalmatic looks back at him: a tonsured priest in a shorter garment with a staff, crutch-headed with volutes (a cambutta) walks to R.

8. (continued). L. the traveller lying on the ground: the Samaritan bending over him pours oil and wine into the wound. R. the Samaritan walks beside an ass led by a servant: on the ass is the traveller whom the Samaritan is supporting: his head and stomach are bandaged. A very clever picture.

9. Zacchaeus. L. Apostles. Christ, holding a roll, talks to Zacchaeus, who sits in a rich conventional tree.

f. 2 b. Border on three sides (not at top) of a foliated ornament repeated.

10. Christ and the Jews (John x.). Under four arches with tiled roofs above: the first and third (from L.) are broad, the second and fourth narrow. (a) L. Jews in short tunics, some in pointed caps, disputing with (b) Christ with book, facing L.: (c) Jews with stones in their raised hands walk towards (d) Christ walking to R. holding his garment up to his face with both hands.

11. The Wedding Garment. L. a man in pointed hat, bearded, stands at the end of a table at which are five guests: he is saying "amice quo modo huc intrauisti." The guest nearest him has a tattered cloak and nothing else: C. the same guest in tattered cloak and trousers is led to R. with bound hands by two men: one drags his hair, the other holds a rope attached to his hands: R. he is seated under an arch with hands and feet bound and dishevelled hair: a man stands over him, with a hand on his shoulder.

12. The Entry into Jerusalem. L. the Apostles: Christ with a roll rides to R. on an ass: a man in a tree casts down branches, one of which the ass has in his mouth. Men in the gate of a city hold branches and face L. The foremost is spreading a green garment.

f. 3 a. A zigzag band in the border, the triangular spaces filled with foliated ornaments.

13. The Last Supper. A Table. Five Apostles: Christ blessing, with his R. hand: John (with slight beard) in his lap, with his L. hand Christ puts the sop into the mouth of Judas, who is light-haired, has no nimbus, and kneels on the near side of the table. Five Apostles sit on R. All save Judas are nimbed. On the table are three fishes in boat-shaped dishes, and three cakes marked with cross lines.

14. Washing of Feet. Under five arches. L. attendant with towel: Christ kneeling, holds Peter's foot in his L. hand: his R. hand is raised, and he is speaking. The foot is over a laver with globular bowl and ornamented base. Peter sits with his R. hand on his head. On R. sit eight Apostles in a row, some cross-legged, all barefoot: some of them wear hose with a band passing under the foot. They are not nimbed.

15. Betrayal. Peter with raised sword in R. hand, scabbard in L. Malchus carrying a lantern on a staff—the whole not unlike a labarum—shrinks away from him. Two attendants: one seizes the R. hand of Christ, whom Judas kisses. Eight attendants on R., two in pointed hats or helmets: one seizes the L. hand of Christ. Their weapons are spears, halberts and maces.

f. 3 b. This and the following leaves have hardly any colour save occasionally in the hair and beards of the figures.

16. (a) The Scourging. Pilate throned. Christ full-face, is bound to a pillar: the tormentor on L. has a birch, the one on R. a scourge with three lashes and balls at their ends.

17. (b) The Crowning with Thorns. Christ seated full-face, with bandaged eyes: one mocker kneels on each side: three more press the crown of thorns on his head; one has his hand raised to strike. They have two long staves, but only one is being used to press down the crown.

18. Simon bearing the Cross. L. two soldiers: a Priest with mitre: two attendants: Christ half-nude is led by his bound hands by a third attendant. Simon preceded by another man bears the cross.

19. The Crucifixion. L. a Priest and four others point to R. A thief on the cross, his eyes bandaged, his arms bound over the beam, his feet bound to the upright. C. the Virgin facing R.: a man with lance and bucket: Christ crowned with thorns, nailed with four nails: the cross, especially the cross-beam, is of rough wood. The drapery is rather long: the title blank: Stephaton on R. with a vase on the end of a stick. R. John, bearded, faces L. The second thief crucified like the first, and with eyes bandaged. A Priest and three Jews face L. and point.

f. 4 a.

20. The Deposition. Three women face R. The Virgin kisses the R. hand of Christ which is detached from the cross. Joseph (?) supports the body. Nicodemus (?) engaged in supporting the feet already freed: another man draws the nail out of the L. hand with pincers. John, his head on his hand, faces L.: he has a book. Three men face L.

21. (a) The Entombment. Two women, one with a casket. Joseph supports the head, Nicodemus the feet of Christ, who is swathed in linen: his beard does not appear. They place him in a sarcophagus ornamented with S's. Behind it are three trees: on R. two men face L., one has a vessel.

22. (b) The Jews ask Pilate for a guard. A crowd of Jews face R.: two of them have mitres, most of them pointed hats. Pilate, throned and facing L., talks to them.

23. The Angel and the Women. L. eight soldiers lie, foot to foot: their lances are above them: a bow, quiver, axe, sword and spear lie in front. They have pointed shields with central spike, and pointed casques with nose-pieces. R. an angel with gold face (smeared: it was probably added later) sits on the tomb-slab: on L. of him is the sepulchre: this is a two-storied building, of which the lower story is square with four round-headed open arches: one only is seen; and displays curtains looped back and a lamp hanging in the midst above the tomb. It has a sloping tiled roof, out of which grows a hexagonal second story with small round-headed windows, surmounted by a tiled dome with a small ball at the top. The angel talks to three women facing L., two of whom have caskets.

f. 4 b.

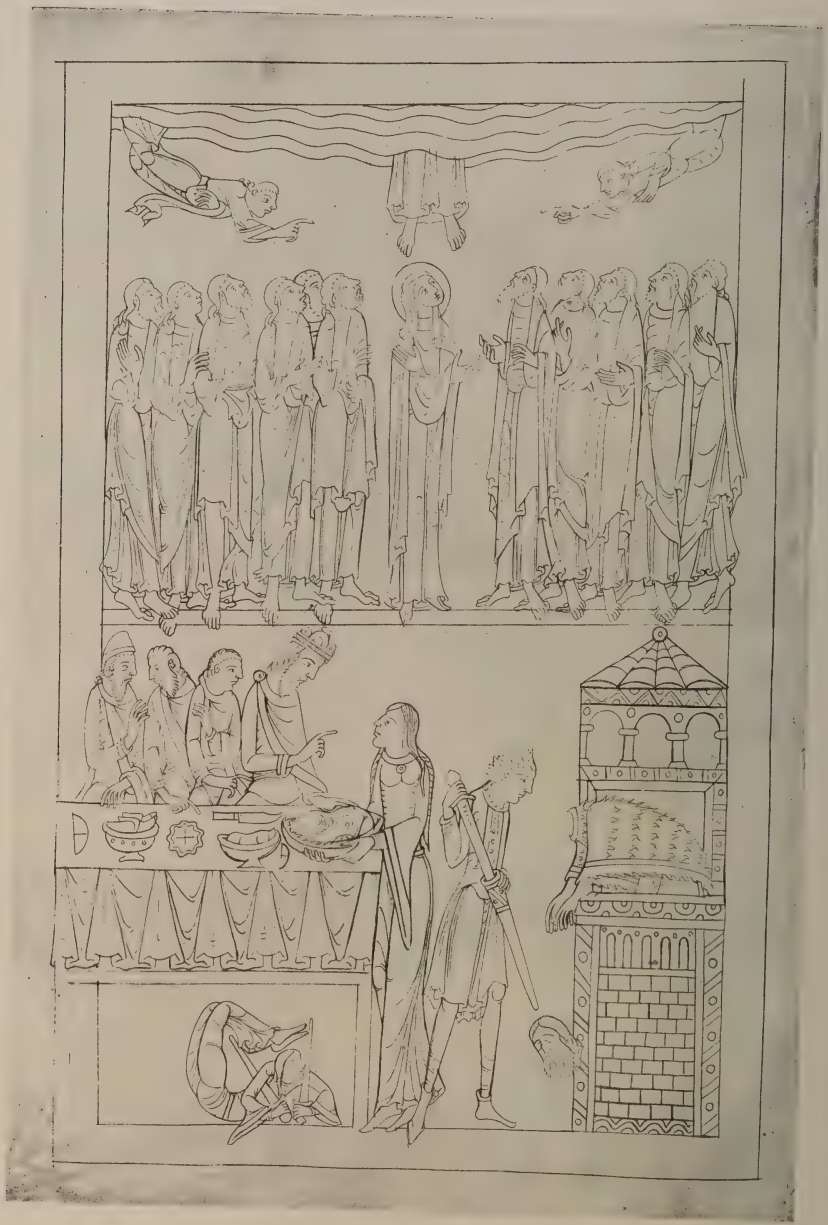
24. (a) The Harrowing of Hell. L. an angel stands over two prostrate gates, crossed. Christ, half-nude, pierces with bannered Resurrection-cross a prostrate devil in Hell-mouth, whose hands, legs and feet are bound. Rows of devils are seated round. With his L. hand Christ takes the hand of the foremost of five nude saints who are advancing.



No. 120, fol. 5^{b}.

25. (b) Noli me tangere. L. two trees: Mary Magdalene kneeling: Christ standing cross-nimbed (as always), with book, speaks to her.

26. (a) Journey to Emmaus. L. a tower on a hill: over it "Sol" a grotesque face. Pointing to this stands one (on L.) of two pilgrims in rough cloaks and hats, with sticks. The one on R. takes hold of the cloak of Christ, who is similarly dressed, and has a long staff.

27. (b) Supper at Emmaus. Under three arches, the three are at table. Christ, bare-headed, gives an exact half of a round cake to each pilgrim; each of whom has a hand raised.

28. (a) The Return from Emmaus. The two pilgrims talking together: a closed city gate on R.

29. (b) The Incredulity of Thomas. Under five arches. Five Apostles: Thomas exploring the side of Christ, who is half-nude, with raised arms: five more Apostles on R.

f. 5 a.

30. (a) The Fish and Honeycomb. Two Apostles: one presents a dish of honey (indicated by crossed lines): Christ seated alone at a table, full-face, his hands extended: on the table are two dishes and a round cross-marked cake: on R. two more Apostles, one presenting half a fish on a dish.

31. (b) The Appearance at the Lake. Four Apostles in a ship with a sail: a cross on the mast-head: one has a steering-paddle, one an oar. Peter, half-naked, steps on the water towards Christ, who stands on the shore.

32. (continued). (a) A dragon-headed boat, half seen: two Apostles in it hold one end of a net full of fish: two Apostles on the shore hold the other end. The water is coloured green.

33. (continued). (b) Six Apostles: a beaked fish lying on a red heap (of coals): above it (in air) a crossed cake with a small circle in each quarter: Christ facing L. invites the Apostles.

34. (a) Christ on the Mountain. Five Apostles, two standing, three kneeling: Christ, full-face, with book, stands on a mound, blessing: six more Apostles, three standing and three kneeling.

35. (b) Christ and the Eleven. (Mark xvi.) Under four arches. Christ facing R. speaks to eleven Apostles seated at a table, of which three legs are seen.

f. 5 b.

36. The Ascension. L. six Apostles facing R. look up: above, an angel flying down points to R.: C. above, the feet and legs of Christ seen in a cloud: below, the Virgin (the only figure not barefoot) full-face, looks up: R. five Apostles facing L. look up: above, an angel flying down points to L.

37. The Decollation of S. John Baptist. L. a table: three guests and Herod, who is crowned: he speaks to Salome, a long-haired girl, who places on the table a dish with the head of the Baptist, very cleverly drawn. Below the table, Salome is again seen, her feet over her head, she resting on her elbows and on the hilts of two swords which she holds. R. an executioner sheathing his sword: the Baptist's head in front of him is falling to the ground: the body is leaning over the window-sill of an elaborate tower, habited in a hairy cloak.

f. 6 a.

38. The Father and Son. L. a six-winged seraph on a wheel. C. the Father and Son seated full-face in a Vesica, with moduled border. The arms of the Father clasp the Vesica: the Son has a cruciform nimbus and is blessing: he is on the L. The two bodies unite at the hips into one lower half, seated on a cushioned seat. R. a six-winged seraph on a wheel. This picture is no doubt meant to be taken in connexion with the next.

39. The Descent of the Holy Ghost. Under three gables, above which are a tiled roof and turrets. Under the central gable, two hands hold the Dove, head downwards, with open beak, whence red rays diverge upon L. five Apostles seated: C. the Virgin seated, full-face, and R. six Apostles seated.

f. 6 b. The Last Judgment. Full page. In the centre is a Vesica intersecting the Cross below. In the Vesica is Christ seated, his arms depressed, the palms of his hands shewn. On R. and L. of the Vesica stand at top three Angels in clouds (six in all): below sit two rows of Apostles (twelve, arranged in threes), with open books. On each of the transverse arms of the cross stand two nails: at the base two angels kneel and support it: on L. stands an angel with the lance: on R. one with the crown of thorns. Below the cross is a horizontal line across: below that, on L. an ornamented tower with six faces seen at the windows. An angel at the gate. Four ecclesiastics, and an Emperor: four of them have palms: C. an angel looking to R.: a devil: a crowd of naked souls (one is an Emperor) with chains round their necks: Devils drag them into Hell-mouth.

This is the last of the xith century drawings: the absence of any of the favourite Nativity subjects is remarkable: very likely they are lost. The treatment of the Ministry of our Lord is in accordance with the best traditions of early art, as exemplified for us at Cambridge by the Gregorian Gospels at Corpus Christi College. The reason of the special prominence given to the Decollation of S. John Baptist must be sought in the unknown individuality of the artist whose patron may have been the Baptist, or in the connexions of the Monastery where the drawings were done, supposing them not to be productions of Bury Abbey. In any case, they are the most important early Gospel-pictures in Cambridge, next to those in the Gregorian Gospels above mentioned.

There is a fine decorative initial to the Prologue of Jerome, and other fine ones on the following page.

Initial to S. Matthew's Gospel, occupying two-thirds of a column. The background is of gold, and inside that, of blue, with white dots in threes. A winged man sits full-face on a cushioned seat, under an arch lettered MATHEVS: he has a book.

Initial to the Prologue to S. Mark. A figure, seated in a chair with a small desk on his knee and a scroll thereon, is cutting off his L. thumb with a knife. He has four heads: of a lion in front, of an eagle behind, of a bull on R. and of a man in C. the last three have scrolls. A medallion below on L. contains a half-length bearded prophet (Ezekiel) with scroll, pointing up.

This mysterious figure is S. Mark, 'ὁ κολοβοδάκτυλος' as S. Hippolytus calls him: the old Prologue to his Gospel gives the story of his having cut off his thumb in order to avoid being made a bishop: the story grows out of the epithet κολοβοδάκτυλος, which, again, is derived from Mark's desertion of Paul and Barnabas. In the Bedford Hours is a picture of S. Mark cutting off his thumb: see a photograph of the page in Falconer Madan's Books in Manuscript.

Initial to S. Mark's Gospel. Very fine, with dragon and blue stork.

Initial to S. Luke's Gospel. Fine decorative Q.

Initial to Prologue to S. John. Fine H.

The above description of the illustrations is revised from one which was published in the Proceedings of the Cambridge Antiquarian Society (Vol. VIII.). At that time I believed that the pictured leaves at the beginning were of English origin: now, after ten years, I am far less certain. They lack some of the most characteristic marks of Anglo-Saxon art, the fluttering draperies and sharp outlines which appear (for instance) in the two Gospel books (Nos. 301, 302). Still, English they may be: what is certain about them is that they are older by a good many years than the text which follows them. That text I conjecture to have been written and illuminated abroad, perhaps in Flanders: but upon this point I feel myself unable to pronounce with certainty.

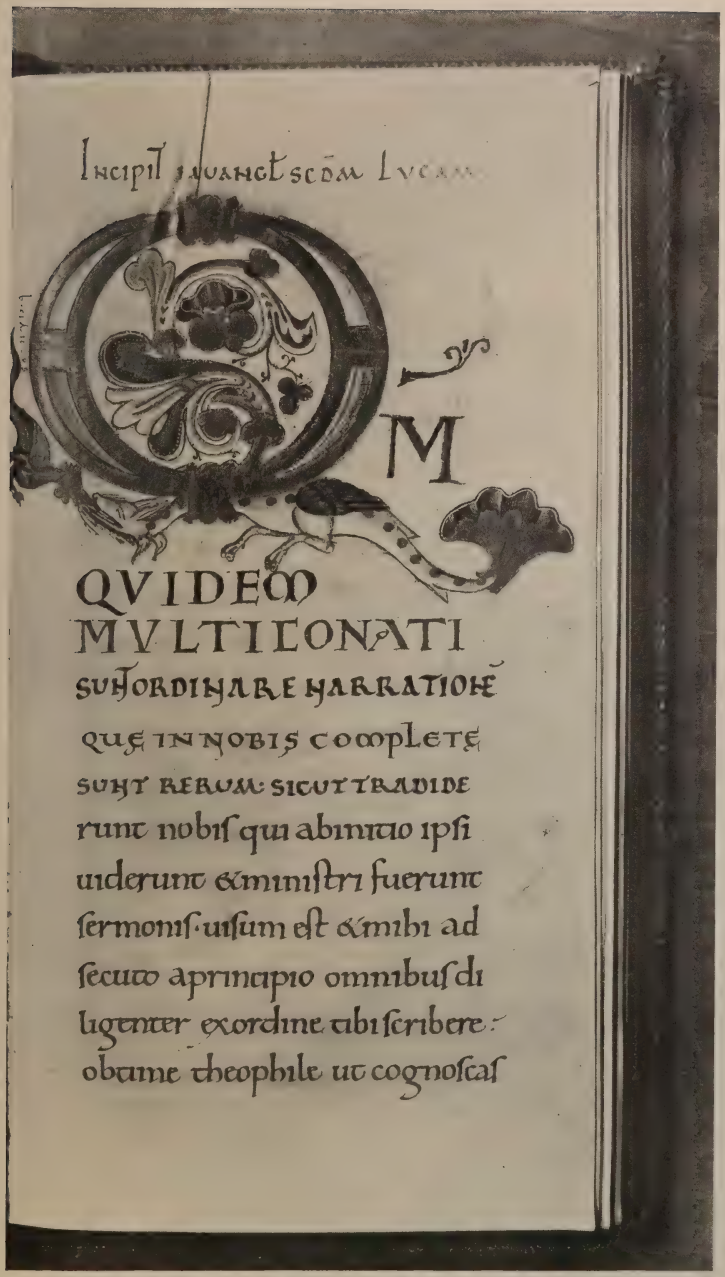
The ornament of the volume consists of (a) the framework of the Eusebian Canons, (b) four full-page pictures of the Evangelists, (c) four initials to the Gospels.

The framework of the Canons consists as usual of a series of arches. These are mainly in gold. The shafts have coloured capitals and bases, and sometimes spiral bands about them. At the top are usually some ornaments in centre and at sides. On ff. 2 b, 4 b are birds.

No. 302, fol. 60^{b}.



No. 302, fol. 61[a].

On 5 b is a half-length figure facing R. in blue-hooded garment over pink holding up a book and pointing to it.

Opposite on 6 a is a half-length figure in green looking L. and scratching his chin.

On 6 b two cocks at the sides, and in C. a half-length tonsured figure in purple, reading busily.

The full-page pictures are framed in bands of gold and colour, with small projecting ornaments at the angles. The background is always formed by one or more curtains on bars, usually looped up. The distinguishing mark of these pictures is the magnificent gold drapery which generally forms the upper garment of the Evangelists. It is of burnished gold with incised lines to show the folds, and sometimes indications of a pattern. The other main colours are vermilion, blue, purple, and green.

1. St Matthew, beardless, nimbed, in gold robe over vermilion, seated full-face in cushioned chair with round back (blue): he looks to R., dips his pen in gold inkstand, and holds knife on open book on the arm of the chair. His feet on a blue carpet with gold quatrefoils.

The initial to text mainly in gold, with some interlaced work at top and bottom and insertions and offshoots in colour.

2. St Mark bearded and nimbed, in gold over blue, turns round to R. and mends a pen with a knife: an open cupboard in R. upper corner. His chair is mainly in gold with chequered cushions. Gold desk with two shelves supporting open book on L.: his feet on a gold stool covered with red drapery. Outside at top is a gold spot with a tangle of red and blue lines about it, perhaps meant for the sun in a cloud. His gold robe also flutters outside the frame on R.

3. St Luke bearded and nimbed, in gold robe over purple, faces R. and bends forward holding book open, and knife: his pen is behind his ear: his chair mainly blue: feet on a red stool edged with gold: the curtain behind is in folds, red shading into pink, semée with gold spots.

Initial Q, the tail in colour composed of a dragon fighting a cockatrice (cock with serpent's tail, red): by this latter in small letters basiliccus (basiliscus).

4. St John beardless, nimbed, bends forward to R. and writes with gold pen in book, a knife in his L. hand, gold robe over red. His legs are crossed and his feet on a green stool edged with gold: red curtains on blue background. The gold robe projects from the frame on L.

The initial I has four animal heads at the angles.

See, on this book, Westwood, Ornaments of Anglo-Saxon and Irish MSS. p. 143.

303. Biblia Sacra.

Vellum, $6\frac{4}{8} \times 4\frac{3}{8}$, ff. 398, double columns of 53 lines. Cent. xiii, very beautifully written (English hand) with decorative initials.

On the binding (cent. xviii, rebacked: one clasp left) is a device in gold, a pair of compasses between oak (?) and palm branch. Motto Labore et Constantia.

Collation: 1^{16}–24^{16} 25^{6} | 26^{8}.

Contents:

Among the feasts in the latter are: Peter Martyr, Invention of Stephen, Dominic, Sancta Corona (Crown of Thorns), Bernard, Francis, Denis, which indicate Parisian and Dominican influence. It should be remembered that the Dominicans of Paris made a special revision of the Vulgate.
The decorative initials throughout are good: they are usually edged with green.

304. Horae.

Vellum, $7\frac{3}{5} \times 5\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 108 + 2, 19 lines to a page. Cent. xv late, well written.

Binding of cent. xvi, with gold corners, stamps, and oval stamp of the Crucifixion with the Virgin and St John: in bands above and below

305. Horae.

Vellum, $6 \times 4\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 102 + 11, 16 lines to a page. Cent. xv (first half), clearly written in a slightly sloping English hand.

Rebound.

Collation: 8 leaves of paper, 1 flyleaf of vellum, 1^8 (1, 2 canc.) 2^8–13^8, 2 flyleaves.

On the paper flyleaves, the beginning of Aue rosa sine spinis (xvi).

On the vellum flyleaf, a remarkable woodcut on paper pasted on, dated by Professor J. H. Middleton at about 1475–80.

"It represents S. Barbara crowned, with long flowing hair: she wears a cope over her voluminous gown. In her R. hand she holds a book and in the L. a palm branch. On R. is a lofty tower: in a kind of porch attached to it is seen the chalice with the Host over it: background of diaper pattern: the tower covered with criblé work, the upper L. corner of the cut is torn away and a strip at the bottom is cut off, the L. border outside the cut is also gone. It measures 14·4 centimetres by 10·4 and is roughly coloured."

This manuscript was not used by Mr G. C. Macaulay in his great edition of the text: but he had particulars of it which served to render a collation unnecessary.

308. Rabanus super Epistolas. { vac. / S. 2588

Vellum, $11\frac{7}{10} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$, ff. 256 + 1, 35 lines to a page. Cent. ix, in a very good Caroline minuscule, by several scribes whose names are given. The text of the Epistles is written in capitals.

Given by Lancelot Andrewes, Master, 1589.

It belonged in the first instance to the Cathedral of Rheims. At the junction of the quires (last leaf of one and first of the next) is written in capitals across the lower margins of both leaves

HINCMARUS ARCHIEPS DEDIT SCAE MARIAE REMENSI.

This form of signature is found in many MSS. now at Rheims.

Hincmar was Archbishop from 844 to 882.

It subsequently belonged to the Cathedral Priory of Ely. At beginning and end in a hand of cent. xiv, xv is: Iste liber pertinet ecclesie Eliensi, and on the margin of f. 1 of text is the mark ✠ which I have learned to be characteristic of Ely books.

On the flyleaf is a title in an English hand of cent. xiii.

The signatures of statesmen of Elizabeth's and James I's reigns are mostly appended to licences giving Ferdinando or Philip Paris leave to travel more than the five miles allowed to Papists and other pieces touching their position as such and to requisitions of men and money. Several documents refer to loss of land on the Norfolk Coast, e.g. at Beeston, Eccles and Happisburgh. Others to Sir William Andrews of Downham, Essex and the Popish Plot in which he was concerned.

There is also a catalogue of curiosities in Lady Paston's Closet at Oxnead Hall, temp. Charles II and a catalogue in Parkin's hand of the Pictures at Houghton Hall.

I could not have compiled the above list without the kind help of Mr F. J. H. Jenkinson, University Librarian, and of Mr Charles Sayle. Both gave much time to the clearing up of difficulties and to both my best thanks are due, as also to the Rev. H. M. Bannister of Pembroke College, Oxford, for identifying the Liturgical MS. fragments noticed above.
